Re: SCO v. IBM

Dear Brent:

This responds to your letter dated August 28, 2003. In my August 27, 2003, letter, we requested that you notify us by Friday, August 29, 2003, whether SCO will provide detailed, complete, and meaningful answers to IBM's interrogatories by Friday, September 5, 2003 and, in addition, notify us whether SCO will produce non-privileged, responsive documents as soon as they are collected, reviewed, processed, and ready for production. In your letter, you indicate that because both you and Mr. Heise are out of the office, you will not be able to respond by Friday, August 29. In light of this, we request that you advise us by the close of business Wednesday, September 3, whether SCO will provide complete responses to the interrogatories on or before Friday, September 12, 2003. Similarly, please notify us by next Wednesday whether SCO will produce non-privileged, responsive documents as soon as they are collected, reviewed, processed and ready for production.

Your letter also mentions that counsel for SCO previously has raised concerns about the adequacy of IBM's discovery responses. Neither Dave Marriott nor I recall any such concerns having been raised. Nevertheless, we are more than willing to discuss any concerns with you and Mr. Heise. Both Mr. Marriott and I are available next Thursday between 2:00 and 4:00 for a conference call. Whatever concern SCO may have about IBM's discovery responses, however, is a separate issue that should not impact SCO's obligation to provide complete, meaningful discovery responses, and to produce documents that are ready for production.

Please let me know when you would like to schedule the conference call and, as always, feel free to call if you have any questions.
