U.S. PATENT NO. 6,757,682

59. On information and belief, AOL admits that on June 29, 2004, United States Patent No. 6,757,682 ("the '682 patent") issued and is entitled "Alerting Users to Items of Current Interest." AOL denies that the '682 patent was duly and legally issued. AOL specifically denies that the '682 patent describes an invention and refers to the patent for its description. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 59 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

60. AOL admits that it provides the AOL Shopping website. AOL denies that it has infringed or continues to infringe any claim of the '682 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271. AOL denies the remainder of the allegations contained in paragraph 60 of the FAC.

61. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 61 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 62 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

63. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 63 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth

AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 69 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.
 70. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 70 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

71. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 71 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

72. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 72 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

73. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 73 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

74. AOL denies the allegations contained in paragraph 74 of the FAC pertaining to AOL. AOL is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 74 of the FAC, and therefore denies the same.

JURY DEMAND

75. This paragraph sets forth Interval's request for a jury trial, to which no response is required.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

AOL denies that Interval is entitled to any relief, including the relief requested in the FAC.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

Without conceding that any of the following necessarily must be pleaded as an affirmative defense, or that any of the following is not already at issue by virtue of the foregoing denials, and without prejudice to AOL's right to plead additional defenses as discovery into the facts of the matter warrant, AOL hereby asserts the following defenses. By pleading these defenses, AOL does not agree to undertake any burden of proof beyond that required by law.

AOL INC.'S ANSWER AND COUNTERCLAIMS TO INTERVAL LICENSING LLC'S FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT - 9 CASE NO. 2:10-cv-1385 MJP

Noninfringement

1. AOL has not infringed and does not infringe, either directly, contributorily, or by inducement, any claim of the '507, '652, '314, or '682 patents, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

Invalidity

2. The claims of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents are invalid for failing to comply with the provisions of the Patent Laws of the United States, including without limitation 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and/or 112.

Laches

3. On information and belief, and in view of Interval's infringement contentions, Interval has had knowledge of one or more accused AOL products for at least six years before instituting this lawsuit.

4. On information and belief, Interval delayed filing the instant suit against AOL for an unreasonable and inexcusable length of time after it knew or reasonably should have known of its infringement claims against AOL with respect to the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents.

5. Interval's delay in filing the instant suit has caused AOL material prejudice of an economic and/or evidentiary nature.

6. AOL's conduct with respect to Interval has not been culpable, and a finding of laches applied to Interval's patent infringement claims would not be inequitable.

7. On information and belief, Interval's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of laches.

Prosecution History Estoppel

8. By reason of the proceedings in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office during the prosecution of the applications for the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents, including but not limited to amendments to the claims and arguments and representations made to induce the grant of those

No Entitlement to Injunctive Relief

9. Upon information and belief, Interval does not make or sell any systems or methods that compete with AOL's accused instrumentalities. Upon further information and belief, Interval does not make or sell any products at all.

10. Interval is not entitled to any injunctive relief in connection with this action because, inter alia: (1) AOL has not infringed and is not infringing any of the asserted patents; (2) the asserted patents are invalid; (3) any purported injury to Interval is neither immediate nor irreparable; (4) even if Interval had suffered some injury (which it has not), there is an adequate remedy at law and monetary damages would be sufficient; (5) the public interest strongly disfavors an injunction under the circumstances present here; and (6) the balance of hardships favors AOL.

COUNTERCLAIMS

Pursuant to Rule 13 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Defendant/Counter-Plaintiff AOL asserts the following counterclaims against Plaintiff/Counter-Defendant Interval:

THE PARTIES

1. AOL Inc. ("AOL") is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the state of Delaware, with its principal place of business at 770 Broadway, New York, NY 10003.

2. On information and belief, Interval Licensing LLC ("Interval") is a limited liability company duly organized under the laws of the state of Washington, with its principal place of business at 505 Fifth Avenue South, Suite 900, Seattle, WA 98104.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. AOL's counterclaims for declaratory judgments arise under the patent laws of the United States, more particularly under Title 35, United States Code. The jurisdiction of this Court is proper under at least 35 U.S.C. § 271 et seq. and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338, 1367, and 2201-02.

AOL INC.'S ANSWER AND COUNTERCLAIMS TO INTERVAL LICENSING LLC'S FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT - 11 CASE NO. 2:10-cv-1385 MJP 4. On August 27, 2010, Interval commenced a civil action for infringement of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents by filing a Complaint in this Court against AOL. Interval's Complaint was dismissed by this Court on December 10, 2010. On December 28, 2010, Interval filed its First Amended Complaint ("FAC"). AOL denies infringement of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents as alleged in Interval's FAC and asserts the invalidity of the patents, as set forth above in AOL's Answer to the FAC. As a consequence, there is an actual justiciable controversy between AOL and Interval concerning whether AOL infringes any valid and enforceable claim of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents.

5. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Interval at least because Interval, on information and belief, is organized under the laws of the state of Washington, has its principal place of business in the state of Washington, and has submitted itself to the jurisdiction of this Court.

6. Venue in this judicial district is proper at least because Interval has consented to this venue by asserting and filing claims of patent infringement against AOL in this judicial district. Venue is also proper in this District pursuant to at least 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 and 1400.

First Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That AOL's Accused Products Do Not Infringe Any Claim of the '507 Patent

7. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 6 of its Counterclaims.

8. AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe any claim of the '507 patent because AOL does not make, use, sell, offer to sell, or import any system, apparatus, or method claimed in the '507 patent and AOL does not induce or contribute to the direct infringement of the '507 patent by any party.

9. A judicial declaration that AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe the claims of the '507 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '507 patent.

Second Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That AOL's Accused Products Do Not Infringe Any Claim of the '652 Patent

10. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 9 of its Counterclaims.

11. AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe any claim of the '652 patent because AOL does not make, use, sell, offer to sell, or import any system, apparatus, or method claimed in the '652 patent and AOL does not induce or contribute to the direct infringement of the '652 patent by any party.

12. A judicial declaration that AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe the claims of the '652 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '652 patent.

Third Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That AOL's Accused Products Do Not Infringe Any Claim of the '314 Patent

13. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through12 of its Counterclaims.

14. AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe any claim of the '314 patent because AOL does not make, use, sell, offer to sell, or import any system, apparatus, or method claimed in the '314 patent and AOL does not induce or contribute to the direct infringement of the '314 patent by any party.

15. A judicial declaration that AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe the claims of the '314 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '314 patent.

Fourth Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That AOL's Accused Products Do Not Infringe Any Claim of the '682 Patent

16. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through15 of its Counterclaims.

AOL INC.'S ANSWER AND COUNTERCLAIMS TO INTERVAL LICENSING LLC'S FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT - 13 CASE NO. 2:10-cv-1385 MJP

17. AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe any claim of the '682 patent because AOL does not make, use, sell, offer to sell, or import any system, apparatus, or method claimed in the '682 patent and AOL does not induce or contribute to the direct infringement of the '682 patent by any party.

18. A judicial declaration that AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe the claims of the '682 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '682 patent.

Fifth Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That the Claims of the '507 Patent Are Invalid

19. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 18 of its Counterclaims, as if fully set forth herein.

20. The claims of the '507 patent are invalid because they fail to comply with one or 12 13 more of the statutory requirements for patentability set forth in 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq.

21. A judicial declaration of the invalidity of the claims of the '507 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '507 patent.

Sixth Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That the Claims of the '652 Patent Are Invalid

22. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 21 of its Counterclaims, as if fully set forth herein.

23. The claims of the '652 patent are invalid because they fail to comply with one or more of the statutory requirements for patentability set forth in 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq. 22

23 24. A judicial declaration of the invalidity of the claims of the '652 patent is necessary 24 and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '652 patent. 25

Seventh Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That the Claims of the '314 Patent Are Invalid

25. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 24 of its Counterclaims, as if fully set forth herein.

26. The claims of the '314 patent are invalid because they fail to comply with one or more of the statutory requirements for patentability set forth in 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq.

27. A judicial declaration of the invalidity of the claims of the '314 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '314 patent.

Eighth Counterclaim for Declaratory Judgment That the Claims of the '682 Patent Are Invalid

28. AOL incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 27 of its Counterclaims, as if fully set forth herein.

29. The claims of the '682 patent are invalid because they fail to comply with one or more of the statutory requirements for patentability set forth in 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq.

30. A judicial declaration of the invalidity of the claims of the '682 patent is necessary and appropriate at this time pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a) in order that AOL may ascertain its rights and duties with respect to the '682 patent.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, AOL respectfully requests that the Court:

A. Enter a judgment in AOL's favor and against Interval for a declaration that AOL does not directly or indirectly infringe the claims of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents;

B. Enter a judgment in AOL's favor and against Interval for a declaration that the claims of the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents are invalid;

C. Declare that Interval, its officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, licensees or others acting for, on behalf of, or in concert with Interval, be enjoined from asserting or 26 threatening to assert any rights under the '507, '652, '314, and '682 patents against AOL, its 1 customers, suppliers, licensees, agents, employees or others acting for, on behalf of, or in concert 2 3 with AOL; D. Declare that Interval takes nothing by its FAC; 4 5 E. Declare an award to AOL of its costs, expenses and interest incurred in this action; 6 F. Declare that this case is "exceptional" pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285, and award to 7 AOL its attorneys' fees in this action; and G. Award AOL any other further relief as this Court deems just and appropriate. 8 9 AOL reserves the right to supplement or amend this Answer and its Counterclaims, if 10 necessary, after further investigation and as more information becomes known. 11 DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38, AOL respectfully demands a trial by jury 12 13 on all issues so triable.

DATED this 14th day of January, 2011.
