

STAY CONNECTED. STAY SECURE.

Connecting with colleagues online has never been more important. But working remotely can put us at greater risk of cybersecurity threats.

To protect our systems and data:

- Use our organization's virtual private network (VPN) and only connect to secure private networks.
- Follow our guidelines for creating and updating passwords. Don't share them with anyone.

Mobile:

- Protect your devices never leave them unattended in public places or in a vehicle.
- Don't let others see your unlocked computer screen in public.
- Install software updates as needed and never download unauthorized software.

When we're aware of cyberthreats, we're better able to address them and prevent damage. If you're aware of suspicious activity on your device, report it immediately to an internal resource.
