Nutanix End-of-Sale Announcement Bulletin - Legacy software products

In Feb 2022, Nutanix introduced a new software portfolio of products (Nutanix Cloud Platform) to replace our legacy software portfolio products. Nutanix is announcing the end-of-sale dates for our legacy software portfolio. Customers with an active software subscription can continue to use these products and will continue to receive support from Nutanix until the end of that subscription term for your currently licensed legacy software products.

Nutanix is also announcing the final date to renew the legacy software subscriptions. After this date, customers cannot renew any of the subscriptions for our legacy software products, but we will support the ability for customers to renew individual legacy software subscriptions with an equivalent from the new portfolio (Nutanix Cloud Platform) without a requirement to disrupt current workloads. Customers also have the option to convert legacy software subscriptions to new portfolio subscriptions before the term of the legacy software subscription expires. Please contact your Nutanix account team for further details.

The impacted products are AOS, Flow, Prism (Pro & Ultimate), Calm, Files, Objects, Mine, and Era. Table 1. lists the milestones, their definitions, and the milestone dates.
