

SOLUTION BRIEF

Supply Chain Risk Management

Prevent disruption with multi-tier supplier intelligence, customizable alerts, and integrated collaboration tools.

Uncovering hidden supply chain risk

While obtaining reliable data about your direct suppliers is crucial, a substantial portion of supply chain risk and disruption comes from second- and third-tier suppliers you may not even be aware of. Uncovering these dependencies is critical to a more complete understanding of your overall risk exposure, which may expose potential bottlenecks, an over-reliance on single-source suppliers, localized labor issues, regulatory violations, and other possible issues.

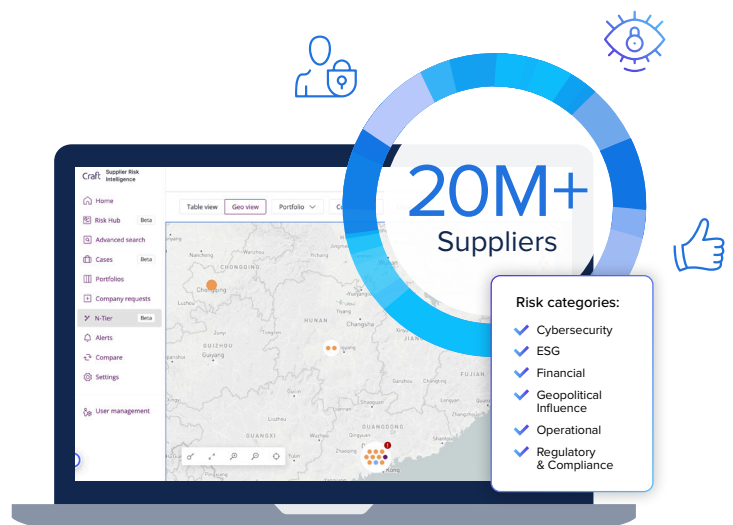

Craft Supply Chain Risk Management helps you identify and mitigate risk from not just your suppliers, but your suppliers' suppliers.

Craft makes it easy to access and understand supplier data

With 360-degree visibility into your supplier networks, you can eliminate manual web searches, save time, and make smarter, faster supplier decisions with more accurate information. Streamline and shorten procurement cycle times with accurate and relevant data, insights, alerts, and action plans.
