LEADERSHIP LAB FOR STUDENTS AND MENTORS

This is a unique opportunity for teams of four to eight students in grades 6 to 12 along with two adult mentors from your school to attend the virtual equivalent of a day long leadership development session focused on improving your school climate and supporting healthy technology use. This 4-6 hour, go at your own pace training, created by inspirED from the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence, will provide all the tools and inspiration to support your team in measuring your school climate, planning and implementing a team project to improve your school, and measuring your impact. This work is evidence-based and provided at no cost; however, teams must register to participate. This training is currently being evaluated through a research study, thus the school will be required to provide pre and post test data and will receive on-going coaching over the course of the student-led project, as well as a gift card worth $350 to be used in any way determined by the team. This event is limited to the first 60 teams who register
