

Chrome Enterprise Recommended Solution RingCX by RingCentral

Next-generation communications that accelerate the world's ability to connect.

Providing a modern agent experience ensures agents can communicate with their customers across every channel, handle high ticket volumes, and protect their customer's data against fraud. With RingCX and Google ChromeOS, you can provide agents with easy-to-use tools they need to provide great service, all from a secure endpoint that's easy to manage.

Discover the benefits

RingCX + ChromeOS = Happy Agents + Happy Customers

Increase agent productivity and efficiency

With RingCX's robust modern application on the familiar ChromeOS device, agents can spend more time assisting customers vs searching for data or troubleshooting systems.

Stress-free deployment and administration

Businesses can quickly onboard agents in a work-from-anywhere environment by leveraging RingCX bundled on ChromeOS devices. It becomes much easier to deploy and manage all aspects of a contact center from a single location – the Google Admin console.

Protect your business & customer information

There are no disruptions to an agent with ChromeOS updates and they are protected against all ransomware. Combined with RingCX's proactive application upgrades and secure platform, companies are ensured compliant communications despite ever-changing regulations.

