

IN THE CASE OF CHILD PORNOGRAPHY, THE MORE UNDERDEVELOPED THE BETTER THE PICTURE.

We all know a child who's a natural in front of the camera. We've all seen a photogenic baby. But pornographers see children in a way you can't – and never want to. Child pornography exists primarily for pedophiles. They use it to feed their sexual obsessions, to stimulate their sex drive and validate their desire to actually assault children. At the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, we know that there are thousands of pornographers preying on children worldwide. That's why we support law enforcement in their efforts to arrest these predators. To report child sexual exploitation, call the police. Then call us at 1-800-843-5678 or contact us at www.cybertipline.com. We'll give you help, advice and information. Because one of the best ways of protecting children from pornographers is to put the public in the picture.
