Mr. CRANE (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the original request of the gentleman from Illinois?

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I only reserve the right in order to allow the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CRANE] to explain the bill.

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GIBBONS. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding and would like to elaborate that H.R. 3815 makes miscellaneous amendments to trade laws with further amendments adopted during Senate consideration of the bill. The Senate added amendment is similar to those in the House passed bill which make technical and miscellaneous corrections to U.S. trade laws.

These provisions have bipartisan support and the support of the industries involved and I would urge my colleagues to support this legislation. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me.

I am pleased to explain to my colleagues in the House the provisions of H.R. 3815, which makes miscellaneous amendments to trade laws, with further amendments adopted during Senate consideration of the bill. On July 30, 1996, the House passed H.R. 3815 under suspension of the rules.

The Senate added amendments similar to those in the House-passed bill which are aimed at streamlining and facilitating the administration of U.S. trade laws. The Senate also added some noncontroversial duty reductions and suspensions, reliquidations, and refunds for acknowledged errors by the Customs Service. These provisions have bipartisan support and the support of the industries involved, and are of similar character to provisions already included in the House bill.

One item in the House-passed version of H.R. 3815 was removed by the Senate. This provision would have established a general consultation and layover requirement for any changes in Administration policy with respect to rules of origin or country-of-origin marking determinations, and a specific moratorium for changes in policy with respect to marking requirements for hand-tool forgings. I still support the bill, however, because it is the expectation of the chairmen of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee that the administration will heed the substance of this provision even without specific legislation. The committees plan to address the issues of rules of origin and would be especially averse to any action by the administration in the meantime that would jeopardize the ability of the committees of jurisdiction to approach these issues in a considered and orderly manner at that time.

I believe that H.R. 3815 strikes a blow for good government by streamlining our trade laws and taking care of noncontroversial tariff matters. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to support passage of this important legislation with the Senate-passed changes.

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, further reserving my right to object, I want to pay tribute to the lady who sits to my immediate right here, Mary Jane Wignot. She has been an effective, wonderful, intelligent staff member for the Subcommittee on Trade on the Committee on Ways and Means for many decades.

She has made major contributions to the substance of legislation that has passed through our committee, complicated technical legislation. She epitomizes what is best in public service for our professional staff.

Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

Mr. SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the original request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3815.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE—RETURNING TO THE SENATE H.R. 400, THE ANAKTUVUK PASS LAND EXCHANGE AND WILDERNESS REDESIGNATION ACT OF 1995

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of the privileges of the House, and I offer a privileged resolution (H.Res. 554) returning to the Senate the bill H.R. 400 and the Senate amendment thereto, and I ask for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The Clerk reads follows:

H. RES. 554

Resolved, That the Senate amendment to the bill (H.R. 400) entitled the “Anaktuvuk Pass Land Exchange and Wilderness Redesignation Act of 1995”, in the opinion of this House, contravenes the first clause of the seventh section of the first article of the Constitution of the United States and is an infringement of the privileges of this House and that such bill with the Senate amendment thereto be respectfully returned to the Senate with a message communicating this resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The resolution raises a question of the privileges of the House.

The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CRANE] will be recognized for 30 minutes, and the gentleman from Florida [Mr. GIBBONS] will be recognized for 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CRANE].

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. CRANE asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, this resolution is necessary to return to the Senate the bill H.R. 400 and the Senate amendment thereto because the amendment contravenes the constitutional requirement that revenue measures shall originate in the House of
