

Photographers have suffered a great deal in the last couple decades and in particularly the last. Day rates have stayed the same for a long time and in some cases gone down. Moreover, a large majority of contracts signed today by photographers are awful and take all their rights with little to no compensation in the long run. Thus, this huge price hike really hurts us. I understand the price may have to go up but it should not be such an drastic increase.